Description

Marketing professionals drive organizational success for corporations and non-profits by translating customer desires into effective strategies. Students learn to assess market opportunities, segment target markets, and create strategies and tactics that help achieve organizational goals. Students build a solid business foundation and develop skills across the spectrum of marketing activity, from research, through strategy development and planning, sales, digital marketing and social media, and persuasive communication across media platforms. Through a busy, student-run agency, students work on a wide range of projects which they ultimately pitch to the clients for possible implementation.

Career Opportunities

Entry-level positions for graduates may include marketing coordinator, social media specialist, sales representative, marketing technology specialist and similar roles within a range of corporate settings, agencies, and non-profit sectors including the arts, education and health, and charitable organizations. Career pathways for marketing professionals may lead to executive-level positions or self-employment in a consulting capacity.

Program Learning Outcomes

The graduate has reliably demonstrated the ability to:

1. contribute to the development of a marketing plan that will meet the needs or goals of a business or organization;
2. contribute to the development of an integrated marketing communication plan of a product, concept, good and/or service based on an identified market need or target;
3. contribute to the development of new and/or modified marketing concepts, products, goods and/or services that respond to market needs;
4. contribute to the development of strategies for the efficient and effective placement/distribution of a product, good, and/or service to respond to an evolving market;
5. contribute to the development of strategies related to pricing for a product, good, and/or service;
6. analyze the viability of a concept, product, good and/or service in local, national or global markets;
7. participate in conducting market research to provide information needed to make marketing decisions;
8. communicate marketing information persuasively and accurately in oral, written, graphic and interactive media formats;
9. plan, prepare and deliver a sales presentation or pitch to address the needs of a client;

10. develop strategies with clients, customers, consumers, co-workers, supervisors and others to maintain and grow working relationships;
11. develop learning and development strategies to enhance professional growth in the field;
12. apply entrepreneurial strategies to identify and respond to new career opportunities that might include contract employment, and self-employment initiatives;
13. operate within a framework of organizational policies and practices, when conducting business of the organization;
14. employ environmentally sustainable practices within the profession.
